The delegates from the various communities met in the court house Saturday and elected the following county committeemen:

R. B. Gist, chairman, John Bedenk, W. O. Turpin, alternates Ross Craig and B. E. McCormick.

Meetings were held in each of the seven districts during the past week. The 1943 program was explained by County Agent W. H. Upchurch at each meeting before the election was held.

War Bond Sales For November Are Below the Quota

Randall county is running behind on the War Bond quota for November, stated County Chairman R. H. Wright yesterday.

During the first 17 days of the month the sales of War Bonds amounted to only $8,428.50.

The quota for the month is $20,400. During the last 13 days of November sales must total $11,971.50 if the quota for the month is to be met, states Mr. Wright.

The quota for the county has been met regularly, and Mr. Wright hopes that there will be no deficit this month. All who have not bought their regular monthly quota of bonds are urged to do so at once.

Light Weight Paper Should Be Used

The Post Office Department is requesting that light stationery be used when sending air letters. This is to save weight and space on the planes. Space on the mail planes is limited; therefore it is essential that the load be light.

Christmas cards and packages should be mailed around the first of December to insure safe arrival by Christmas. With the many thousands of soldiers in the service, mail is expected to be the heaviest in the history of the department. All citizens are asked to cooperate by mailing their packages and cards early.

18 Year Olds to Register During Latter December

Boys who have become 18 years of age since the last registration on June 30 will be registered under Selective Service.

By proclamation, the President set the week beginning December 11 and ending December 18 for draft registration of those who became 18 in July and August.

Young men who reached that age in September and October will register in the following week and those who became 18 in November and December will register in the week starting December 26 and closing December 31.

Starting with January 1, 1943, young men will register with their local boards as they become 18 years of age.

The Randall County War Price and Rationing Board requests that no automobile owner shall make application for Supplemental Mileage Ration Books until Nov. 26.

Smothers hopes to recruit 50 girls from the Panhandle, who will go to Des Moines, Iowa, or to Miami Beach, Fla., for their training.

Forty branches of service are opened for women, most of which will relieve a man for combat service.

Applicants must be in good health and of excellent character and between the ages of 21 and 45. No Coffee Unless Hold Sugar Book

Few Who Had Excess Sugar in May Have Not Registered: Coffee Ration Nov. 29

There are many citizens who did not receive sugar ration books because they had a surplus of sugar on hand. It now becomes necessary for them to apply for these ration books in order to secure coffee on and after Nov. 29, according to T. S. Stevenson, clerk of War Price and Rationing Board.

If a citizen registered and secured War Ration Book No. 1, he will not be required to register again in order to get coffee, as stamps 18 through 28 will be used to secure coffee rations.

In order to get coffee, consumers must register for Ration Book No. 1, even though they had an ex-cess of sugar on hand during the registration time in May. Sugar stamps will be removed from the books to cover the amount of sugar on hand on May 4.

On and after Nov. 29 consumers older than 14 years as shown by their sugar registrations, may buy one pound of roasted coffee per person for the five weeks including January 3, 1943. Because of its position in the book, Stamp No. 27 will be detached for the first coffee purchased after rationing begins.

Lannie Line Has Returned From Base in Ireland

Lannie Line is home from Ireland where he was in an airplane service factory since July. He returned home because of bad health, and is returning to California to continue work in plane production.

He made the trip home on the Princess Elizabeth. The day before the ship was to dock the Germans announced that the ship was sunk by a sub. His company cancelled reservations in New York for 25 mechanics who were returning home, and a representative of the company was amazed when the ship pulled up to the dock.

Mr. Line, a former W. T. student, relates many interesting details regarding his experience in Ireland.

More Metal Is Ready to Ship

Scrap Metal Is Rolling In Daily; Car and Half More Metal Is Now Ready

A. A. Kirkpatrick shipped two more carloads of scrap metal last week. He has a car and a half on hand and is processing the metal for shipment in the near future. He still needs more metal to make up a car of the same kind of metal.

Altogether 264,000 pounds of scrap metal has been shipped from Canyon. Most of this scrap has been gathered in the drive conducted through the united efforts of local people. Most of the metal was handled through the Consumers Fuel Association, while Mr. Kirkpatrick has bought a large quantity directly from the citizens.

One carload last week went to Ohio and the other to Colorado. The Government directs shipments to the smelters which are in the greatest need of scrap metal.

Scrap metal is still coming in, and the demand will not be over until the war is won. All citizens who have not sold their old scrap metal are urged to gather it at once. The government wants all of the metal collected before winter starts when it may be impossible to handle the scrap metal.

Sunday Deadline on Extra Casings But No Receipts

If you have more than five casings to each car you own, you must turn in the extra casings to the express office.

Here is the rub: Express offices in this section are out of receipt blanks, and will not accept the extra casings. Many Randall county citizens have tried to dispose of extra casings, but were told they must wait until extra receipts were received.

Nov. 22 is the dead-line for turning in casings.

Motorists cannot receive ration books until they dispose of the extra casings.

The situation is becoming critical for many citizens who are trying to carry out the letter of the law.

Buffs Will End Season Friday

Buffaloes Play Air Base Friday

Lubbock Cadets Boast All-Americans in Robinett and Layden

Football for the 1942 "Hustlin' Buffs" will come to an end Saturday when they face a line-up of all stars including two All-Americans, from the Lubbock Air Base.

This will be the second service ball club met by the Buffaloes this season, the other being Albuquerque Air Base. West Texas defeated the first crew 18-13 when these same boys had already earned a 12-0 victory over the Lubbock fliers. This game however was played early in the season before Uncle Sam had rounded together the complete ball club.

Pete Layden of Texas, All-American last season, has just recently arrived at the air base and by Saturday should be raring to go. Many football fans thought that Layden was more valuable to the Longhorns last season than was Jack Crain, his running mate in the backfield.

Halfback for the boys from the stratosphere is Marshall Robinett, for two years an All-American guard at Texas A. & M. Assistant Coach W. W. "Windy" Nicklaus, who saw the Plainview Glider School fall 20-0 before these boys says that Robinett has lost none of the hard charging of his 202 pound frame-work by changing to the backfield —he's an All-American there, too.

The other boys are stars from various schools, several are former Tech players. Particularly outstanding are Smith, 185-pound half back and Dixon, 180-pound quarterback. Smith is an all around man, being the best passer and kicker and a fleet runner.

From some quarters comes the idea that this may be the last season of football at West Texas State. Only time will give the real answer, but either way several of the Buffs who are seniors are playing their last game for the Maroon and White. J. W. Anderson, starting signal caller, will complete his eligibility as will Johnny Thomas and Joed Forbus, co-captains and bulwarks of the line all year. Leslie Curb, 220-pound end, will spill his last ball carrier Saturday and C. M. Teague, tackle who has become famed as a punt blocker, will wind up his line smashing. William Flowers, fleet back and Jack Hessey, big tackle, will also write finis on their W. T. pigskin careers.

Coach Nicklaus should feel right at home with the boys from the Air Base for two of the players, Bingham from O. B. U. and McWhorter of Altus Junior College received their early coaching from him.

Pending the healing of a few minor bruises picked up in the Hardin-Simmons tangle, Coach Miller expects his boys to be in good

Soils Discussed at Rotary Luncheon by Spencer Whippo

Ray Campbell was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday. He introduced Spencer Whippo, teacher of agriculture in W. T.

Mr. Whippo showed a soil map of Texas, which indicated the various types of soils in the state. He has made an extensive study of soils in the Panhandle, making hundreds of tests from the various sections. According to his study, the soils of West Texas are more fertile than those of East Texas, but are not so productive because of the lack of moisture. However, the soil of East Texas is not being conserved as it should be.

Men who burn off their fields should be treated as criminals, stated the speaker, as he explained how this damaged the soil.

The speaker answered many questions regarding crops, irrigation and erosion. No two wells have the same kind of water, and therefore the effects of irrigation should be carefully studied. The water supply of the Plains is of local origin, and due to the surplus rainfall.

Visitors were: E. Kancher, C. T. Crowe, Irving Tolzein, F. R. Barnes, all of Amarillo; Gus Miller of Canyon.

Sgt. Jack Bewley of Camp Edwards spent last week visiting his parents.

PRESS TO MEET

The 34th Annual Convention of the Panhandle Press Association will be held in Amarillo April 9-10.

The directors met Saturday in Amarillo with President Wes Izzard and voted unanimously to hold the annual convention at the regular time.

It was pointed out that the government encouraged conventions where associations were confined to a compact territory. This fits the Panhandle Press Association.

The convention will have a patriotic theme in April. But plenty of time will be devoted to the discussion of mounting problems of the newspapers.

Million dollar deposits are no longer unusual. Practically every county seat bank in this section shows such deposits, or at least nearing that mark. This reflects a very sound financial condition in the Panhandle. Producers are in the saddle. Farmers have made good crops, and have received good prices for their products. Cattlemen are in their cow heaven, with soaring prices, and plenty of good feed and pasture. It was not many months ago that the opposite condition prevailed. Folks were pretty nearly all broke then, and they knew it. Today, the producer and a large percentage of the workers are greatly improved in their economic condition. They cannot spend their money for luxuries, and many of the great necessities are either impossible to buy or are greatly limited. This is the time for the man in town to prepare to put his money in a home, and the farmer to put his money in land. Real estate may fluctuate in value, but it cannot be wiped out entirely like other investments may be in the economic crash which is expected after the war.

Many people have expressed to The News a desire that we publish the names and addresses of all men in service from this county. The News would like to do this, if it were possible, but readers who seek this information are asking the impossible. Randall county now has about 525 men in military service. They are in all parts of the globe. Naturally the addresses of men abroad cannot be published for military reasons. Keeping up with the other men is a great problem. Many parents and friends of boys in service are sending The News weekly to the boys. It takes many hours every month changing the addresses of these men as they are shifted from camp to camp, or from one unit to another. A mailing list which might be correct today would be 25% wrong tomorrow. The News realizes that a correct list of addresses would be very valuable at Christmas time, but the censorship points out that the publication of large numbers of addresses by any newspaper might be of value to our enemies.

Those who have been crying for a second front now really have their wish. But what a difference to the second front the drug store military experts would have planned. We have been hearing cries that we should have land troops in France, across from England and plow through the Germans. We tried this on a small scale and lost about 75% of the men who landed. With careful preparation we landed several thousand men in North Africa with little loss. These men are now poised to strike along a long front. Brains count even in war, and those who never fought a battle are outmoded as military experts in this fast moving fight.

INITIATIVE, ENERGY, MATERIALS

Henry J. Kaiser, probably the world's greatest shipbuilder, has this to say about the place of private industry in the future: "It has to be pounded into Americans that now is the time to make industry great . . . we have the whole world to produce for and there is no limit to it if people only realize it." He pointed out that we have three "expendibles"; initiative, energy and materials. American industry has plenty of all three. And only industry can make the fullest use of them. Kaiser warned that: "Leadership in industrial planning for after the war must come from industry itself. It cannot come from government, although the government must be recognized in such planning. The government must cooperate in the planning, check and approve it."

Nearly two billion people will be destitute when the war is over. In all likelihood this country will remain with its industrial plant intact. It is a plant of proven ability. During the last century, its energies have been devoted almost wholly to giving to the American citizen necessities and luxuries that were unheard of in the rest of the world. It gave these things to the people because the people themselves maintained a fom of government which protected and encouraged the individual. Resources such as timber, metal, coal, oil and electric power were discovered and developed by hardy pioneers, engineers and business men—all individuals—all striving to furnish something that society needed in return for a reasonable profit. It was a fair deal. Everybody benefited. We got our automobiles, our modern homes with magic light, heat and power. The masses of America got things that the feudal lords of Europe could never get.

What our privately-operated industry has done for America it can help do for the world, if we give it a chance. To give it that chance we must guarantee its existence as free enterprise under equitable public regulation.

Congressman Maas of Minnesota has created a furor in Washington, and a mild ripple of excitement throughout the nation by his charges that we are losing the war in the Pacific and that the people are being kept in ignorance of facts. As a matter of fact we did lose every battle up until recently. Men like Maas, Congressman Eugene Worley and Lyndon Johnson disagree as to what is taking place in the Pacific in spite of the fact that they served there for a few months. This war is so big and the fronts are so far-flung that men who serve in one small sector has little idea of what is going on in another sector. The Japs have so much more than we were expecting, and are so much better fighters that the breath was knocked out of Americans for the first 8 or 9 months. The last two months has witnessed a changed situation.

Poor old France is in a deplorable condition. Dramatic appeals have been made by the United Nations to Frenchmen to revolt against the Nazi. But can the French do much more than pray for Allied success? Hitler has held a million or more French soldiers prisoners since the downfall of the nation. They have probably been slowly starved almost to death. France has been robbed of everything that Hitler could use. The French have no arms, and now that the entire nation has been overrun and under the heel of Hitler, sabotage is about the only implement of warfare left for the fragment of the once great and proud nation. With a pistol in their backs, the French have little choice in their support of Hitler so long as the United Nations are unable to make an actual invasion of European soil. When the fighting starts in Europe, the French may be expected to give valuable aid to the Allies.

Leon Henderson has the faculty of making himself unpopular with most all classes of people. Governor Stevenson was assured by Washington that owing to long distances in the Southwest and the abundance of gasoline in this section which in no way hampers transportation, that OPA would be liberal in granting necessary gasoline to the people of this section. Henderson stated Friday night in Dallas that all car owners throughout the nation would be treated alike. Those who have to drive 20 to 50 miles to market in the Southwest could expect no better treatment than those in the East who drive 3 to 5 miles. Such a position is absurd. After all gasoline rationing is largely in the hands of local boards, and these men know who needs gasoline, from those who do not need it.

It was not a case of "too little, too late" when American soldiers landed in Africa last week. The story behind the scene is one of the most thrilling in American history. The ground work was carefully laid, and those in command were assured that there was an ample force to do the job. For the first time in this war, the tide of battle is beginning to turn against the Nazi to such an extent that there is hope for a successful termination of the war during 1943 or by the middle of 1944.

The President says that men in industry cannot be efficient in their work when they put in more than 40 hours per week! Farmers work 70 to 90 hours. Wonder what our soldiers in Africa and in the Pacific think of the petting the President is giving organized labor?

Science Building Near Completion

But Furnishings Are Not Available; Government May Need Structure

West Texas State's new Science Building is 80 per cent finished and would be occupied next semester if heating and furnishings were available.

It is impossible to buy many furnishings, although substitutes may be available in some instances. Some of the equipment now in use in the main building can be moved.

The possibility that the U. S. government may wish to use the Science Building in the training of enlisted or civilian personnel is not remote. The structure might even be made into a barracks temporarily. The likelihood of some development of this kind is delaying plans for occupying the building.

Given two more months, workmen can complete the finish work on the Science Building. Plastering has been finished. Landscaping is underway. Laying of floors is one of the biggest remaining tasks. Most of the wiring has been done but fixtures have not been purchased. Fluorescent lighting no longer is available. The heating plant has been installed but radiators are not obtainable. Some temporary method of heating with gas might be devised.

The beauty of the new building has attracted wide acclaim.

25 Fliers for Army and Navy Trained at WT

West Texas State College has now been given authority to train twenty-five fliers for the Army and Navy under the Civilian Pilot Training program and Dr. S. H. Condron, C. P. T. Co-ordinator for the College, announced Monday that he expected the quota of five men to be trained in connection with the Army eight-week program to be doubled soon.

At present, the College has a quota of five men to furnish for Army training, and a quota of ten Navy fliers for the short course and ten V-1 or V-5 reservists who are enrolled in school for the extra-curricular sixteen-week course. The Navy quota was increased last week to take the flying course here. Dr. Condron expects an increase, probably doubled, in the five who are trained with each eight-week course.

Participants in the eight-week, non-college, program for the Army are selected through a mental screening test. The Navy furnishes the fliers who are to be trained for it.

The ten Navy fliers are Joe H. Collier, Friona; Ray Connelly, Borger; Paul D. Cook, Tulia; John F. Dawson, Dumas; Grover Lee Heilkell, Pampa; W. E. Miller, Hereford; Ernest J. Pickens, Canadian; Lisle D. West, Amarillo; Collins A. Wilkins, Hereford; and E. W. Woods, Canyon.

The program for the Army-Navy eight-week course commenced Monday. Army fliers were named in an earlier issue of The Prairie.

Students who will take the extra-curricular sixteen-week course include Alvin Lee, Earl Mathews, William Earl Collins, Gordon Kephart, Robert Dean, John Mallett, Carl Hunter, and Johnny Turner.

In the student flying course each participant flys a minimum of 35 hours and has 72 hours of ground instruction, making a total of 107 hours for the course. Students receive three-hour college credit when the course is completed. Ground school includes a study of Civil Air Regulations, navigation, general service of aircraft, aircraft identification, meteorology, theory of light and operations.

War Work Will Be Intensified

"College as Usual" Will End; Specific Training For War Jobs Expected

Possibilities for intensifying West Texas State's war efforts are being studied by President J. A. Hill and many faculty members.

As the enrollment declines, opportunities for special short courses and war projects are increasing, There is ample shop space for teaching mechanics to enlisted personnel. By next summer, it might be possible to empty one or more dormitories for service projects. In an emergency, living quarters could be provided in gymnasiums and other buildings. At the University of Arizona, for instance, officers in special training are quartered in a huge gymnasium. And one of the dormitories at Sul Ross State is being taken over by a military service. Many southwestern institutions have enlisted men on their campuses.

Government Plans Forming

Drastic changes in curriculum, teaching personnel, and student body are not unlikely in the summer and next long session. Startling statements about military necessity in relation to higher education have been made in Washington, D. C., lately, but official confirmation is lacking.

In order to be prepared for any eventuality, West Texas State has made statistical studies of its campus and possible offerings. Briefs are being prepared on several subjects.

Department heads are studying ways to aid the war effort through regular courses, some of which can be directly linked with taxation, conservation, price fixing, and rationing. War aids already under way on the campus have been described in lengthy briefs.

Many Possibilities Seen

Dean R. P. Jarrett is coordinator of the general war aid program. Many committees and chairmen have been charged with specific programs. The College has been represented at many regional conferences on war work, and will be in constant touch with state and federal agencies. A dozen or more projects which could be launched here have been described to authorities concerned. Should the war be greatly prolonged, the campus might resemble a military establishment.

There is no inclination to minimize, however, the importance of training teachers for the schools and military courses, employes for business houses, craftsmen for factories, and producers for farm and ranches. Yet, as college men are drafted, dormitory space usable by enlisted personnel becomes available. And college students are being urged to prepare for specific war tasks.

"College as usual" is expected to end by June 1. Training for specialized war work will be given increasing emphasis. Any deviation from this picture is expected to come from the fortunes, or misfortunes, of war.

The 700,000th volume to be added to the University of Texas Library was catalogued recently. The Library ranks 13th nationally and is first in the South.

Price Cagemen Beat Eagles in Overtime

'Chic' Wirt Ranks High Point Man

Price 'B' Team Subdues Eagle Second String

Invading Price Memorial College's territory Friday night for the first game of the current season, the Canyon Eagles suffered a defeat of 16-14 in a furious battle which ended after a three-minute overtime period.

For the first line of defense, the Eagles drafted "Chic" Wirt, center; "Speedy" Wright and J. Spencer Winn, forwards; and Calvin Sanders and Max Bosley, guards.

During the first half of the game, Price attacked wildly, leaving the lagging Eagles with a score 7-2.

A terrific counter-attack in the second half of the bombardment brought the Canyon division into bayonet range with their opponents. Time ended the game with a score of 14-14. In the three minute overtime, a sudden aerial attack by Price won the tally with a final score of 14-16.

"Chic" Wirt, scoring six points, was high-point man for the Eagles.

Price Memorial's B Team suppressed the Canyon secondary division with a final score of 21-22.

SPORTS

By Manis Read Foster

Terminating with a bang, the game at Price Memorial found the Eagles at the short end of a 14-16 score. Friday on their own ground the Canyon Eagles hope to "turn the tables" on the Price Cardinals. Whether they win or lose, the game is sure to be exciting and worth anybody's time to see.

Highlight of the Price-Canyon second string game was Finkbeiner 200-plus pound center on the Cardinal quintet. Six feet tall and five feet wide, he was everywhere at once. Despite his bulk he managed to put in enough points to put his team ahead. Watch this man Friday; you can't miss him.

Several of our ex-students are making good in football. Buddie Tomlinson, class of '39, is a well-known Hardin - Simmons tackle while "Monk" Ford, class of '40, plays back for the West Texas State Buffaloes.

I don't know what our basketball boys would have to say about the matter, but from what I hear a little cheering would be appreciated. At the right time a cheer might make the difference between success and failure. What say we give it a try at tomorrow's game; it worked for the Cardinals.

WAKE UP!

Listen somebody, anybody! Please listen!

I'm a new student standing on the threshold of Canyon High, looking at boys and girls that are my fellow students, ever so many of them—but I don't think they see me. Of course, they have their "gangs" or friends, but I'm lonesome and perhaps they would like me; perhaps I could add something to their lives because I'm from all sorts of interesting places.

Shall we get acquainted? I want to. How about you?

For patriotic recognition, "The "Eagle's Tale" is featuring a gradually increasing list for accumulative names of enlisted exes from Canyon High School.

Other names that may be added to the collection are Roy Cox, E. W. Woods, Jr., Harry Brown, Jr., Hud Prichard, Jr. and Bradford Black.

McReynolds Leads Students in Club

Under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Sarah Thompson, third grade pupils organized an Audubon Junior Club on Friday, November 6. Last Friday, they held their second meeting.

Elected by her classmates at the first meeting, Dorothy McReynolds served as president.

Other officers are Vice-president and Program Chairman Jimile Jennings and Secretary Teddie Howell. Truman Laughery and Dick Sanders make up the committee for program planning.

Some of the projects to be undertaken by the group are to construct a bird calendar and a weather report chart.

Boys Sacrifice Education for Action

Maybe if a certain ex-paperhanger called Adolph had considered the countless boys like Fred Kellum, Roy Cox, Benny Railing and Jack Farley, who were juniors in American high schools last year, who would rather have a guarantee of freedom than a high school education, he would have withheld the dagger in Hirohito's treacherous hand from that cowardly stab in the back at Pearl Harbor.

A year ago Fred was one of the 48 members of Canyon High School's Junior Class, who like several million teen-aged Americans had no particular worries other than the perplexing determination of a cracking voice.

Shortly after Pearl Harbor, Fred enlisted in the Navy. According to his letters, today he is seeing action somewhere overseas.

Perhaps if Mussolini could have forseen the just indignation of boys like Roy Cox, who needed no more encouragement than corrupt dictators' conspiracy to give him a reason for seeking employment in a Defense plant while awaiting the opportunity for service in the armed forces, he would't have been so hasty in forming his Axis alliance.

Roy migrated to Canyon from Tulia High only a short time before his enlistment, but he was in the Eagles' nest long enough to prove his value as a student, band member, athlete and class officer.

The next few weeks of his enlistment will be spent in one of the army's officers' training schools which he will graduate from as a second lieutenant.

Probably Laval didn't contemplate the firm resentment of mechanical-minded youths like Benny Railing who is now serving in the mechanical division of the Army Air Force.

Benny finds the routine of a soldier somewhat like high school life in the respects of studies, food and entertainment; although the necessity of study seems greatly intensified.

Before volunteering Benny augmented the resources of Pantex under the Defense plant's employment.

Undoubtedly if the Axis-triumvirate had regarded football players like Jack Farley who left the gridiron to enter a more strenuous gamble of wits, there would be no bloodshed on the battlefields today.

Jack ended his junior year in high school as a two-year football letterman, basketball letterman, and boxing letterman. In 1940-41, he was vice-president of the Boys' Manual Arts Club, vice-president of the Sophomore Class and delegate to State Homemaking Rally.

When he enlisted in the Navy, Jack was given one of the highest ratings, and in concurrence with the recruiting officer's appraisal, he was recommended for officers' training school.

Said Jack, "If I'd wanted to go to school, I would have stayed home." Now he's on board the U. S. S. New Orleans.

Music Department To Present Program

Junior Actors Begin Practice

December 11 Is Production Date

Cast of Twelve Portrays Production Characters

Following a talent exhibition by Junior Class members of Canyon High School, the class play THAT CRAZY SMITH FAMILY, received characterization Monday afternoon, when Mrs. Bessie Penick and Miss Thelma Franz, senior speech students of West Texas State College, with the help of Mrs. James Jennings, selected the following cast:

Ma Smith, the boss of the family, Betty Harwood; Pa Smith, her husband, Manis Read Foster; Tony, their sensational football-player son, Lindsey Taylor; Betty, their 14-year old daughter, Frankie Phillips; Buddy, their 12-year old son, J. Ray Hunter; Sally, the "arty" 17-year old daughter, Mary Alice Campfield.

Aunt Bella, Ma's plain-spoken sister, Helen Jo Cox; Barbara Wetherby, Tony's girl-friend, Billy Jane Bonifield; Professor Slattery, Bella's absent-minded beau, Eugene Bonds; Dick Jones, a southern boy, Charles SoRelle; Stewart Brandon, a rich play-boy, Bobbie Dowd; and Julie Weston, a sophisticated vamp, Molly Nan Ziegler.

"Rehearsals will start immediately after the characters become acquainted with their parts. December 16, the production night for the play will roll around in a hurry," commented Mrs. Jennings.

McMurtry Gives PTA Address

"With teachers who know and love their work, Democracy can never fail," said Miss Florence McMurtry, teacher from the West Texas State College Department of Education, as she closed her address to the Canyon Chapter of the Parent-Teachers Association last Monday afternoon.

Speaking on the topic, "Education, the Bedrock of Democracy," Miss McMurtry stressed that all American students should know the preamble of the Constitution of the United States and the American Creed.

Before the program, President Mrs. Ray McReynolds presided over committee reports, while Martha Jean Dowd presented a special piano solo, and Mrs. Roscoe Davis and Mrs. R. E. Harter led the group in a sing-song.

"I think these programs are working out marvelously well through the extreme effort of cooperation of the parents and teachers," said Miss Elva Fronabarger, grade school principal.

Sanders Receives Military Rating

Calvin Sanders received the rating of corporal over one squad of high school boys in the Military Science Training.

Boys of this age are divided into two squads, Corporal J. Spencer Winn being in command of the other squad. All the boys are working for higher promotions which they expect to gain soon.

Ex-students just seem to like their old roosting place better: Leroy Wooten, Lee Roy Moreland, Oscar Schuette, Betty Jo Moore and Billy Brown still haunt the halls of their Alma Mater.

What Are You Doing About It?

Since the beginning of the school term, Canyon High School has sold $963.90 worth of United States War Savings Bonds and Stamps.

In comparison with other schools, this is a small sum. A neighboring school, not as large as Canyon High, has sold more than twice the amount purchased by the local students.

Despite this discouraging news, Canyon Grade School along with the High School continues its sale of Stamps and, led by the two sixth grades, sold $39.10 worth this week while the high school totaled a $23.40 tally.

While their relatives and friends are fighting on the battlefronts, students must prove their loyalty to them by buying Stamps and Bonds, even though it sugtracts from their luxuries and comforts.

Students Welcome Holiday Activities

Notice to holiday-hungry students:

Superintendent J. B. Speer has proclaimed next Thursday and Friday Thanksgiving holidays.

School will be dismissed Wednesday, November 25, and will be resumed Monday, November 30.

Skaters Disclose Friday 13 Luck

As entertainment for their regular meeting, members of the Spanish I Club had a skating party in the Canyon High School gym, Friday 13.

Those who took hard falls because Friday 13 was unlucky were Tommy Thompson, J. Spencer Winn, Wanda Moreland, Evelyn Black, Betty Brown, Ellen Sanders, Johnny Harter, Andy Walsh, Helen Woods, Ellen Root and their sponsor, Mrs. James Jennings.

Ice cream and candy were served by Mrs. Jennings and the social chairman, Tommy Thompson.

Mothers Entertain Seniors at Party

Last night members of the Senior Class played bridge, dominoes and other games in the home of Mrs. Ed Harrell.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to the room mothers, Mrs. H. G. Persons, Mrs. J. J. Wright, Mrs. W. C. Black and Mrs. Harrell; sponsor, Mrs. Guy B. Tabor; and members of the class.

School Presents Series of Films

In co-operation with the State Department of Education, Canyon High School is featuring a series of government films on educational topics for class units.

Supervisors for the program are L. A. Woods, state leader; Mrs. T. V. Reeves, District I director; and Miss Helen Whiteside, school sponsor.

As each departmental interest is represented on the screen, the group along with study hall pupils and their teachers, attends the show.

Teachers Register Cars for Ration

For the second time the residents of Randall County have gathered at the various centers to register under war emergencies. This time they registered their automobiles for gasoline rationing.

At 9 o'clock, the faculties of the high school and grade school began registration for this section of the county in the grade school gym.

School was dismissed Wednesday afternoon, but students will resume their regular activities tomorrow.

Roberts Directs Music Groups

Special Groups Will Offer Six Renditions Tuesday

Introducing the chorus and giving the first musical patriotic program of the year, the Canyon High School Music Department, under the direction of Miss Mary Roberts, will present a Victory Program, Tuesday, November 24, at 8:00 in the high school auditorium.

To open the program, the band will play the following selections: "Marching Along with Our Song of Victory," "Anchors Aweigh," "E Pluribus Unum," "Star Dust" and "Susannah and Johnny."

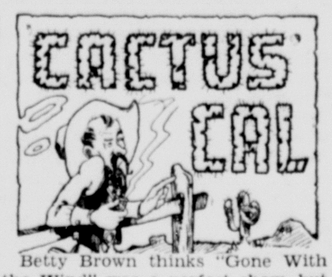
Providing variety for the program will be Johnny Harter, playing "Idaho" on his saxophone; Helen Studer, college voice student from Canadian singing "Giannia mia from Firefly"; and Anita Davis, playing a piano solo, "Deep Purple."

Three groups, one boys' and two girls' sextettes, selected from the chorus will sing special numbers. Charles Taylor, Johnny Harter, J. Spencer Winn, Dana Persons, Dick Woods and Andy Walsh will sing "Asleep in the Deep"; while Betty Ann Miller, Ellen Root, Velta Speer, Betty Brown, Mary Alice Campfield and Martha Jean Dowd, also accompanied by Anita Davis, will sing "Country Gardens." "Glow Worm," played by Sue Ann Moreman, will be sung by Ellen Sanders, Wanda Moreland, Frances Gooch, Billie Jo Wallen, Frances Harp and Mary Ann Bellah.

Singing "Bells of the Sea" and "By the Bend of the River," the members of the Chorus will close the program.

Admission may be secured by purchasing the currently popular piece, "Marching Along with Our Song of Victory" for 35 cents, thereby admitting one family.

"Hard work on the part of every participator in this program may be detected Tuesday night," affirmed Miss Roberts.



Betty Brown thinks "Gone With the Wind" was a perfect show, but it was also the occasion when Max Dutton gave her a beautiful sweetheart bracelet.

And everyone thought it was just a case of puppy-love!

Students who sing during the noon hour or at any free occasion seem to always be singing a song in which they share some characteristic with parts of the melody: as J. D. Hollabaugh singing "Mr. Five by Five," (well, maybe he isn't that large); "Praise the Lord and—Save My Grades," favorite of James Inman; while "When the Lights Go on Again" is sung by Ruth Lill and G. J. Bonds (who hope it won't come true on their chosen night).

"I Met Him on Monday" is sung by Shirley Harrison, but she only blushes when asked whom she met." Why, if the truth were known, every student in Canyon High has a million-dollar voice, but just can't carry a tune.

Buffs Winners Over New Mex.

Reeves Makes Score And Throws Touchdown Pass to Emler, End

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 17—West Texas State's powerful line and resourceful backfield won a thrilling Homecoming game from New Mexico University here Saturday by a score of 13 to 7. The win will give the Buffs a Border Conference standing no lower than fourth for the season, and the West Texans may be in third place when all games are played.

"We've got the best line in Texas—and New Mexico," cried the Buffs as they did a gleeful dance on the field after the final gun sounded.

The visitors yielded 7 points in the first quarter, tied up the game in the second, went ahead 6 points in the third, but in the final period it was that stalwart line which a dozen times repelled every form of attack the desperate Lobos could muster. Three times the Lobos pounded at the West Texans from the 2-yard line, but Co-Captain Joed Forbus and other Buffaloes stopped the charges for no advance.

President Hill Sees Game

That last quarter was a trying one for President J. A. Hill of West Texas State, Registrar D. A. Shirley, Publicist Olin E. Hinkle, and ex-students who had gathered to back the West Texans. After each Buff punt the Lobo eleven would surge back inside the West Texas 10-yard line. Once a Lobo fumble stopped a drive, but the decisive factor was the stubborn but vain efforts of the New Mexico backs to pierce the superbly stubborn Buffalo line.

A sensational punt by Foster in the first quarter, bounding out on the one-foot line, put the Buffaloes on the defensive and gave the Lobos their chance. The score came on a pass-lateral and run play, with Server going over and kicking the extra point.

Breaks Were Factors

A Lobo pass interception in the second quarter was the break that touched off the Buffalo scoring. Reeves, who had hurled that pass at Emler, went over on a 12-yard run and Thomas kicked the extra point. The second Buffalo score also was engineered by Reeves, ably assisted—according to local sports writers—by Lady Luck. The Buff freshman threw a 26-yard pass to Emler, who got his hands on the ball just as Gene LaShelle did. The ball bounded into the air but fell squarely into Emler's arms, over the goal line.

The Buffs started slowly, fumbling and in trouble and fell 7 points behind before getting organized. Then their crashing line made opportunities for the backs and the latter declared the dividends. The line had to save the day in the final period as the Lobos threatened to plunge or pass across on nearly every play.

A small Homecoming crowd, half of it in uniform saw the game. Naval R. O. T. C. cadets presented a marching exhibition.

Local Pastors Support Week

Religious Emphasis Period Will Include Activities Churches, Campus Groups

West Texas State's annual Religious Emphasis Week will present one of the most prominent members of the Methodist Church, Dr. Angie Smith of Dallas, as the main speaker. The program will open December 2 and continue through December 5.

Local ministers and campus religious leaders will participate in activities of Religious Emphasis Week. Each year one of the local churches selects the featured speaker and directs the plans of the program. The chairman this year is the Rev. C. C. Armstrong, minister of the Canyon Methodist Church.

Ralph Owens, president of the Student Christian Association, will endeavor to interest many community groups in activities connected with the Week. Campus religious organizations, which are among the most active in Texas, will participate actively in the services. Personal conferences with the main speaker and with local pastors will be emphasized throughout the period.

Fairview Breezes

We were blessed with two messages rendered by Rev. Loyd Garrison Sunday. We were glad to welcome Mrs. Garrison, Loyd's mother and his sister, Elizabeth, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jo Garrison.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley entertained Rev. Loyd Garrison, his mother and Miss Lavinia Amerson at Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Shipman and children visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ira Schribb.

Mrs. Wayne Wesley is staying this week with Mrs. Hodges in Happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Shipman entertained their friends Friday night with a party. Six tables of progressive "42" was played by the elder set while the youngsters enjoyed various games. Stick candy and apples were servel to fifty-six guests.

Those visiting in the J. W. Wesley home Sunday were Mrs. Jo Garrison, Miss Elizabeth Garrison, Miss Lola Belle Wesley, Delbert Wesley, Mrs. Wayne Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schaeffer and daughters, Evyln, Fayrene and Annabelle, Tommy Woods, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Sharpes and Etta Jean.

Centerview club meets Friday afternoon with Mrs. G. E. Wesley.

If we still had parlors, the tire shortage would lead to parlor dates, if there were any boys at home to date.

WHY SPEND MILLIONS—

Millions of dollars are spent annually and thousands of men devote innumerable hours to provide the people of this nation with pure, wholesome, healthful food, milk and water.

AND THEN SPREAD DISEASE THROUGH CARELESSNESS

If the dishes, glasses, cups, silverware, or any of the utensils used in the preparation and the serving of food are improperly or poorly cleaned, they may harbor the germs of the very diseases which all of the previous careful procedures have aimed to prevent. In many cases this negligence may be a violation of established, written law.

WEST TEXAS GAS CO.

In spite of the great size of Texas, and the sparse population in large areas, which make highway improvement expensive, Texas has one of the outstanding highway systems of the country.

Between 1900 and 1910 when an appreciable number of Texans became car owners, the first good roads clubs were formed and voting bonds for road construction became frequent.

Issuing bonds locally for highway building in Texas was given its first impetus by an act of a special session of the Legislature permitting subdivision of counties for road improvement purposes.

What's worse:
35 miles an hour or 00 miles an hour?

DON'T flunk an easy one!...This is worth thought...The prize at stake is your car!

...Today's sensible top speed of 35 for patriots is a cinch for your engine, compared to unlubricated cold starting—way down at 00 miles an hour!

People in dead earnest to battle wear from the very start, are having their engines OIL-PLATED. Without using up extra moments or money, they simply change to Conoco N*th* motor oil—patented. And this oil's added modern synthetic—with apparent "magnetic attraction"—closely bonds lubricant to inner engine parts. That's called OIL-PLATING because it resembles any good protective plating in not all "going elsewhere" while the car stands cold.

OIL-PLATING doesn't all quickly go draining off down to the crankcase. Oil down there in the depths is still trying to "get a move on" as the engine starts, while OIL-PLATING is already faithfully fastened clear up to the topmost piston rings. Simply because OIL-PLATING doesn't all go away, it's there ahead of time, to get ahead of rampant wear in starting cold. It's there the rest of the time, too. And so the strong liquid-type film of Conoco N*th* oil is sliding between OIL-PLATED surfaces. Not much look-in for wartime wear. Better change to an OIL-PLATED engine, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. He knows your correct Winter grade of Conoco N*th* oil. Continental Oil Company

MERLE LEWIS

Drum Major of Buffalo Band Will Teach Twirling

Band's Marching Leader Is Miss Merle Lewis, Denver City Freshman

Student and teacher at the same time—something out of the ordinary in some places, but a feat quite in line with students at West Texas State College.

Arrangements have been made by the college to have Miss Merle Lewis, drum major of the Buffalo Band, teach a class in the fundamentals of drum majoring and baton twirling.

Miss Lewis has had three years experience as a drum major and during the fall of 1941 studied under Robert Almstead, who is one of the leading drum majors in America and is now connected with Stanford University; Miss Dorothy Taylor, the drum major of the San Hosea State Teachers College Band; and Miss Joanne Soto, a professional twirler.

Miss Lewis has twice received national rating as a high school twirler and led the Denver City high school band to a First Division rating in the Texas State Band Festival at Crummit, Texas.

Students or musicians who desire to receive instruction in the fundamentals of becoming a drum major or in plain and fancy twirling with a baton, (or two, or three,) should see Prof. C. E. Strain, conductor of the Buffalo Band.

President Hill Is Granddad Again

Dr. J. A. Hill has been showing friends a very important telegram from Santa Monica, Calif.

The message told of the birth of a daughter, Sue Ann, to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hill, Jr., on November 11.

Joe Hill is employed by Douglas Aircraft Corporation, to which he went after receiving an engineering degree at the University of Texas. He has had many promotions.

Sue Ann's mother is the former Wilma Jo Jones of Hereford, also a former student.
